

XMAS. Handkerchiefs etc. at J. E. Bell's.

Saints and Sinners.

The sinners, who attend upon the ministrations of brother J. L. Brown, leader of the colored Methodist flock here, having boasted, much to the discomfort of the saints of the same flock, that they (the sinners) were more liberal than the saints in their contributions for the support of the Church, brother Brown determined to test the matter, seeing in it, doubtless, a good chance to gather in a few shekels. He hit upon a plan unique and novel and admirably calculated to test the liberality and fire the zeal of the contending parties. Accordingly he organized the saints into a band which he designated as the "Host of Joshua," placing them under command of Jim Callander and Tom James. The sinners he marshaled under the able leadership of Jim Early, Alfred Pryor and Will Lacy, and these were to be known as the "Host of Gideon." At the Church last Sunday morn-

From
to Fred
land in
From Amzi
Lewis
From Thos.
Blue S
EX
Morg
ily, v
day,
crow
teen
asce
he h
both
"
you
H
his
"
all
don

Tom James. The sinners he marshaled under the able leadership of Jim Early, Alfred Pryor and Will Lacy, and these were to be known as the "Host of Gideon." At the Church last Sunday morning brother Brown arranged a contest, which would put saint and sinner upon his metal, and, as he shrewdly surmised incidently replenish the coffers of the Church. On one side of the altar he placed a table, upon which the contributions of the "Host of Joshua" were to be placed and publicly counted; and on the other side a similar table for the offerings of the "Host of Gideon."— After a few preliminary remarks, in which the pastor urged the importance of liberal giving, and reminded saint and sinner of the love of the Lord for the cheerful giver, the contest opened with lively interest, particularly noticeable among the saints. Purses were opened and examined with eager solicitude, pockets were explored to their very depths and soon the nickels, dimes, quarters, half-dollars, with here and his po

" G
all yo
done
ever
well
T
the
dow
was dea

But the contest was not to be so easily won by this bold dash of the saints.— At the night meeting the sinners rallied, gathered themselves together for another effort and soon had their table groaning under a burden of fifteen dollars, made up of all denominations of Uncle Sam's coins. And now the saints, in turn, were discomfited, fairly paralyzed, indeed, by this splendid showing of the sinners, and their humiliation was well nigh complete when, with all their pleading and exhorting, they could raise only six dollars and 35 cents more. Fortunately for them the energies of the sinners were now expended and their pockets empty, so that this 35 cents was sufficient to give the Joshua-ites the victory, though by a very narrow margin. Result—$32.35, a flush treasury and a smiling parson.